DETAILED OFFICE ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to the application filed on July 11, 2003.

Claims 1-22 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC §102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-22, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McCormick et al., (hereinafter referred to as McCormick) U.S. Patent No. 6,421,709.

4. As to claim 1, McCormick teaches a method of configuring automatic responses to incoming email messages, comprising:

enabling configuration of a plurality of automatic responses, each of the plurality of automatic responses tailored for a type of the incoming email messages(refer to Fig. 1, col. 7, lines 55-67, filtering emails that are included in a specific filter list) ;

examining the incoming email messages to determine the type (col. 7, lines 55-67, incoming email is examined); and responding to the incoming email messages with one of the plurality of automatic responses, the one of the plurality of automatic responses selected according to the type of the incoming email message (col. 7, lines 55-67, incoming email is compared to a set of filters and processing the email based on the rule associated with the filter or passing the email to the user's inbox for immediate retrieval.)

5. As to claim 2, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 1 wherein examining the incoming email messages further comprises flagging the email messages according to the type (col. 4, lines 14-46).

6. As to claim 3, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 1 wherein the type includes a plurality of internal mail types (col. 4, lines 14-46).

7. As to claim 4, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 1 wherein the type includes one of an internal mail type and an external mail type (col. 4, lines 14-46).

8. As to claim 5, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 4 wherein the external mail type comprises at least one of a plurality of defined domains (col. 4, lines 14-46).

9. As to claim 6, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 4 wherein the internal mail type comprises at least one of a plurality of defined internal organizations (col. 4, lines 14-46).

10. As to claim 7, McCormick teaches the method according to Claim 1 wherein enabling configuration of the plurality of automated responses further comprises enabling users to configure the plurality of automated responses via a user interface (col. 4, lines 12-16).

11. Claims 8-22 do not teach or define any new limitation above claims 1-7; therefore, they are rejected for similar reasons.

12. Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings of the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant in preparing responses, to fully consider the references in its entirety as potentially teaching of all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the examiner.
